Classical Conditioning Worksheet

Directions: Six examples of classical conditioning are outlined in the following paragraphs. In each example, identify the unconditioned stimulus, unconditioned response, conditioned stimulus, and the conditioned response.

The Shower

When Lorraine gets back to the dormitory after jogging around the campus, he likes to take a quick shower before going to class. One morning while taking a shower, he hears someone flushing a nearby toilet. Suddenly, extremely hot water comes rushing out of the showerhead and Lorraine experiences excruciating pain. After experiencing a few observations, he continues showering. A few minutes later, Lorraine hears another toilet flush and he jumps out of the shower.

Shane the Cowboy I Want to Get Off

Shane was excited when she learned her family was going to the state fair next weekend. When her family arrived at the state fair the temperature was in excess of 100° F, but Shane didn't care because she was finally there. Shane stopped and watched some clown performing magic to the crowd. As she watched the silly antics of the clown with the carnival music playing in the background, Shane got more and more excited and uncomfortable. Eventually, she fainted from the heat. After that trip to the state fair, every time Shane hears carnival musical she feels a little dizzy.

Chloe's Good Team Game Day

Chloe was really looking forward to lunch because her mother had prepared a tuna salad sandwich. Unfortunately, the mayonnaise she used had been left out too long and went spoiled. Not long after eating the sandwich, Chloe felt sick and had to rush to the bathroom. Therefore, the mere mention of a tuna sandwich would make Chloe nauseous.

Howman Double Take

Jamal goes in for his yearly eyecheck-up. As part of his exam today, the doctor needs to shoot a puff of air into Jamal's eyes to check for glaucoma. This quick puff causes Jamal's eyes to reflexively blink a few times. However, the doctor has to get extremely close to Jamal with his head tilted up when he performs the test, and Jamal can quite clearly see the doctor's nose hair sprouting out of his nostril when this happens. Curiously, whenever Jamal goes to trim his own nose hair in the mirror, he sometimes can't stop blinking.

That Car Makes Me Feel... (KONAMI)

Have you ever noticed how many car commercials feature sexy, scantily-clad young women? Enrique is at home one day watching his favorite television show, "Jeopardy Show," when suddenly a commercial comes on for the new Prius. Interestingly, in every shot of the car a very attractive woman with a bodacious body is shown driving wearing a low-cut shirt. Additionally, in every shot her voice narrates all of the features of the new Prius. From that day on, every time Enrique sees a Prius on the road, he feels aroused, but is a little confused by it.

STOP FLUSHING!

Kanjuchi is a Oregon high school senior. She is pretty typical in that she has great difficulty getting up in the morning. Still, she forces herself out of bed and into the shower when her alarm goes off. Sometimes the water will turn scalding hot and Kanjuchi will begin screaming in pain. The reason for this is that her little brother, Yuloula, will flush the toilet. The pipes are connected which causes the change in water temperature. After enough occurrences of this happening, Kanjuchi has learned to quickly jump out of the shower when she hears the toilet flush.

A Rose Is Not Just Her Name

Everyday Emma receives a bouquet of roses from the love of her life, Kyle. When she sniffs the roses, she feels a tingling sensation in which she lives. Every time she gets roses, she also receives a card that says, "Love always, xxxxxxxx, Kyle." After enough deliveries, just the sight of the card alone makes Emma tingle. Later on, Kyle also includes a chocolate bar with the card. Interestingly, Emma begins tingling whenever she sees the chocolate, although the tingle is not quite as strong as the one produced by smelling the flowers.

Classical Conditioning Practice

Example: A researcher wants to test the power of smell in a dog's world, creating it to salivate. Eventually the sound of the bell alone causes the dog to salivate.

Unconditioned Stimulus (UCS): Food
Unconditioned Response (UCR): Salivation
Neutral Stimulus (NS): Bell
Conditioned Stimulus (CS): Bell
Conditioned Response (CR): Salivation

1. Preview: You get food poisoning after eating sushi at a local restaurant. The next time your friends suggest going out for sushi you start to feel nauseous.

1. Stop the Carousel! I Want to Get Off India was ecstatic when she learned her family was going to the state fair next weekend. Taste Aversion You go out to eat at your favorite Mexican restaurant and have a big Mexican meal. Your roommate also eats quite a bit of chocolate, but she hides it away from you in a locked drawer (smart, don't you think?). Within 6 hours of leaving you are violently ill and appear to have some type of food poisoning. What is the unconditioned stimulus? You could eat it day and night. In fact, sometimes you refer to yourself as a chocoholic. Suddenly, extremely hot water comes rushing out of the showerhead and Tom experiences excruciating pain. The Shower When Tom gets back to the dormitory after jogging around the campus, he likes to take a quick shower before going to class. UCS: CS: UCR: CR: 3. One of the best places to start is with the natural stimulus and response (UCS and UCR). For each of the following scenarios identify the CS, UCS, CR, and UCR. UCS: CS: UCR: CR: In order to continue enjoying our site, we ask that you confirm your identity as a human. After muttering a few obscenities, he continues showering. What is the conditioned response? India stopped and watched some clowns performing next to the carousel. Advertising You like pretty girls; seeing them you generally feel happy and many times your heart works a bit harder. When Good Tuna Goes Bad John was really looking forward to lunch because his mother had prepared a tuna salad sandwich. However, she always shares her chocolate whenever she eats some; she just doesn't want you to eat it all one day when she is in biology lab. UCS: CS: UCR: CR: 2. Whenever you hear her unlock the "special" drawer you know that you are going to get some chocolate. Unfortunately, the mayonnaise she used had been left out too long and was spoiled. Classic Your favorite food is chocolate. Not long after eating the sandwich, John felt sick and to rush to the bathroom. When you see the soda in the store your heart starts pumping a little faster and you feeling light and happy. Thank you very much for your cooperation. As she watched the silly antics of the clowns with the carousel music playing in the background, India got more and more sweaty and uncomfortable. After that trip to the state fair, every time India hears carousel musical she feels a little dizzy. What is the unconditioned response? Eventually, she fainted from the heat. After about 2 weeks of living with your roommate, your mouth begins to water as soon as you hear her key go into the lock of the drawer. In each example, identify the unconditioned stimulus, unconditioned response, conditioned stimulus, and the unconditioned response. No wait, that's only what the advertisers want you to believe. One morning, while taking a shower, he hears someone flushing a nearby toilet. Classical Conditioning Worksheet Directions: Three examples of classical conditioning are outlined in the following paragraphs. You can not even imagine eating Mexican food again. In reality you do buy the soda, but aren't quite sure why. A few minutes later, Tom hears another toilet flush and he leaps out of the shower. When her family arrived at the state fair the temperature was in excess of 100°F, but India didn't care because she was finally there. When soda commercials have pretty girls drinking the soda and dancing around the soda logo, you find that the soda is fairly appealing. What is the neutral stimulus that becomes the conditioned stimulus? Consequently you buy this soda and pretty girls dance around you. Six months later, your stomach still turns when you think of going to eat at that restaurant. Thereafter, the mere mention of a tuna sandwich would make John nauseous. nauseous.
