It is first for the pleasure that an amateur builds him the telescope. This is a special case. The plane mirrors of Newton's commercial telescopes are too small. Consider the C14, it is a commercial telescope whose objective has a diameter of 350mm. - Researcher with elbows resending. Sometimes it is difficult to find the necessary space. In fact, the construction of a telescope usually extends over one or two years. But my colleague is not trying to understand the reasons for my advice. They ask me by alluding to the joint of the suspension of this Citroën car. The nebula diffuse NGC 281 in Cassiopee. The lounging wind makes observation difficult. Some commercial instruments really have a lower optical quality. I propose a bibliography on the manufacture of amateur telescopes. (Bruce Lee 1940-1973) First of all, it is the duration of this company that can cause a demotivation. For the first instrument of it, the fan will have to build a telescope Ä "standard." A telescope manufactured correctly by an amateur will provide at least everything that can be expected from an instrument bought in commerce. For the rest of the instrument, there is no choice, you have to copy solutions already proven. What results can be obtained? The alignment of the optical pieces is unstable. In a nutshell, I often find the following dialogue: ä C eYou can use a Ä «ZCVÄ Platten» to make a German mount? In commerce, you should comply with existing models. The novice constructors sometimes ask me how to make a montage that I do not recommend. Only very competent amateurs are able to appreciate the quality defects of these images.
