This approach is different from medical specialists who rely on referrals from other physicians. Instead, urgent care centers directly target consumers through retail locations with prominent signage, adjacent grocery and big box retailers, radio ads, direct mail campaigns, and online SEO/SEM efforts. To ensure long-term success, patients must have a positive experience that not only brings them back but also encourages word-of-mouth referrals. A successful center relies on loyal, repeat patients who spread the word. One way to increase patient satisfaction is through the AIDET framework. The Only Operating System Designed For Urgent Care offers this approach. What Does AIDET Stand For? AIDET stands for Acknowledge, Introduce, Duration, Explanation, and Thank You. This communication framework helps urgent care staff provide better care by following these steps: Acknowledge patients with a smile and greeting; Introduce themselves and explain their role; Set expectations for wait times; Explain procedures and treatments; and show appreciation through thanks. For your pre-employment drug screening today, please find attached a chain of custody form. This form serves as the paper trail to ensure the test sample is not tampered with. I am removing the bar-coded stickers from the form and attaching it to your sample. You will need to sign the form and initial here. Thank you for choosing our urgent care center today.
