Agenda bruno mars 2025

BRUNO MARS IN CONCERTClassic showmanship in the vein of James Brown and Michael Jackson is alive and well, and Bruno Mars is here to prove it. Mars takes the stage with The Hooligans, a tightly choreographed nine-piece soul band that serves as the perfect representation of his commitment to the live experience - a commitment that led to his selection as the halftime performer at Super Bowl XLVIII. A classic song-and-dance man and multi-platinum selling pop star, Mars references everyone from Prince to The Police in both his image and sound, but the result is more than mere imitation; as a songwriter and producer, he has successfully combined the sounds of his pop idols with reggae and hip hop to create a new generation of genre-crossing hits. In anticipation of his Super Bowl performance, fans can get tickets to catch Bruno Mars in concert on 2013's Moonshine Jungle Tour. BRUNO MARS BACKGROUNDmars was born and raised in Honolulu, Hawaii, where he gained his first exposure to music playing rock and Motown covers in his family's band, The Love Notes. By age five, the Elvis Presley impersonations he performed with the band had gained him a reputation on the island and landed him a cameo in the 1992 film Honeymoon in Vegas. After high school, Mars moved to Los Angeles to pursue music, finding initial success as a member of The Smeezingtons, the writing and production team behind Flo Rida's 2009 hit "Right Round." His first success as a solo artist came in 2010 with "Nothing On You," a collaboration with rapper B.o.B. that peaked at No. 1 on the Billboard Hot 100 and earned the duo several Grammy nominations. Mars' debut album, 2010's Doo-Wops & Hooligans, landed at No. 3 on the Billboard 200 and contained two worldwide No. 1 hits with "Grenade" and feel-good ballad "Just The Way You Are," which nabbed him his first Grammy (Best Male Pop Vocal Performance). Sophomore album Unorthodox Jukebox (2012) was an even bigger success, peaking at No. 1 on the Billboard 200 and spawning the ubiquitous hits "Locked Out of Heaven" and "When I Was Your Man." dinha do bruninho@March 26th 2025Eu amei a experiência de ver meu ídolo! Eu não consegui velo direito, por conta da distância da arquibancada para o palco, mas só de pensar que o vi cantando na minha frente, e consegui me realizar um sonho, foi perfeito. Estava tudo organizado, som perfeito, tudinho! Sinto saudades de voce BruninhoRio de Janeiro, Brazil@Estádio Nilton SantosViktória Bruno MarsJanuary 1st 2025Bruno thank you for being you and bringing joy to my life never forget that I love you even when I'm not close by I want you to know I love you and I'm so proud of you always Bruno Mars I miss you more and more @ Las Vegas, NV@Dolby LiveO talentoso Bruno Mars se fia principalmente na sua capacidade de entreter o público, mas o conjunto falha em apresentar um show coeso, que apresente algum conceito além da pura diversão a que qualquer show se presta. A plateia já estava rendida antes do cantor entrar no palco, colaborando para o sucesso do espetáculo. Ainda com vários momentos de improviso, não foram suficientes para entregar a empolgação digna do aparato da apresentação. O ponto baixo foi a homenagem à Maria Mendonça, no meu ver, despropositada devido ao tempo de morte e o estilo de música e, no entanto, arrebatou a roça. O som do estádio não estava bem equalizado, sem as frequências médias, os agudos com pouco volume e os graves estourando. Valeu a diversão mas eu gostaria de mais conteúdo e menos fru-fru.Belo Horizonte, Brazil@Estádio MineirãoCatarina TeixeiraNovember 5th 2024Perfect show! I've always dreamed of seeing Bruno Mars live, so I traveled from SP to Curitiba just to see him! He was incredible, although I could barely see him except on the big screen, lol. The audience vibe wasn't really on point, but I still had a great time—sang along to every song and forgot about my phone in a world where people only go to concerts to film and show it off as a status thing. I hope to see him again in the future, with a much warmer crowd and hopefully from a closer spot! Love you Bruninho Márcio
