Chandrayaan 2 mission information

On September 2, 'Vikram' successfully separated from the orbiter, following which two de-orbiting manoeuvres were performed to bring the lander closer to the Moon. Let's get to work. Chandrayaan-2 is an Indian lunar mission to explore the uncharted south pole of the celestial body by landing a rover. Whether it's advocating, teaching, inspiring, or learning, you can do something for space, right now. In a major milestone for India's second Moon mission, the Chandrayaan-2 spacecraft had successfully entered the lunar orbit on August 20 by performing Lunar Orbit Insertion (LOI) maneuver. Isro's future plans Isro's next priority is the $1.4 billion Gaganyaan mission, which aims to put three Indian "gaganauts" — at least one of which will be a woman — into orbit. 'Vikram' and 'Pragyan' As India attempted a soft landing on the lunar surface on September 7, all eyes were on the lander 'Vikram' and rover 'Pragyan'. The 1,471-kg 'Vikram', named after Vikram Sarabhai, father of the Indian space programme, was designed to execute a soft landing on the lunar surface, and to function for one lunar day, which is equivalent to about 14 earth days. According to Isro chief K Sivan, communication from Vikram lander was lost and data is still being analysed. If successful, Pragyan will roll out from inside the lander to carry out an intense probe of the moon soil with its two payloads. 50 years later Chandrayaan-2 is a shining example of Apollo 11's legacy| July 13, 2019, Saturday Page 12 Chandrayaan-2 is an Indian lunar mission to explore the uncharted south pole of the celestial body by landing a rover. However, lander Vikram missed the primary landing site and went for the second. Chandrayaan-2's 27-kg robotic vehicle 'Pragyan', which translates to 'wisdom' in Sanskrit, can travel up to 500 metres from the landing spot on the moon and leverages solar energy for its functioning. Chandrayaan, which means "moon vehicle" in Sanskrit, exemplifies the resurgence of international interest in space. If India does succeed, it will be the fourth country to land on the moon, after the erstwhile USSR, US and China, to cement its place among the world's space-faring nations. Shooting for the moon Municipal water and waste recycling systems are based on space designs and so is our understanding of climate change. The US, China and private corporations are among those racing to explore everything from resource mining to extraterrestrial colonies on the moon and even Mars. India's Geosynchronous Satellite Launch Vehicle, GSLV MkII-M1 had successfully launched the 3,840-kg Chandrayaan-2 spacecraft into the earth's orbit on July 22. On September 7, India attempted to make a soft landing on to the lunar surface. Chandrayaan-2 satellite had begun its journey towards the moon leaving the earth's orbit in the dark hours on August 14, after a crucial maneuver called Trans Lunar Insertion (TLI) that was carried out by Isro to place the spacecraft on "Lunar Transfer Trajectory".
